Gina Etzrodt, age 32, has been receiving treatment for her ovarian cancer since her diagnosis in January 2009. Gina traveled to the CFL home outside Orlando, Florida with her fiancé and had this to say upon her return, "For a whole week I forgot I even had cancer. It reminded me that there is more to my life than having cancer."

August '09

Karin Zamborsky, age 39, was diagnosed with breast cancer in February 2008. Karin, her husband and three kids traveled to a donated home in Ocean City, NJ and had these kind words to say afterwards, "This journey has tested a bit of my faith, physical endurance and mental strength; but the gifts that my heart has felt and the love that you have given us is beyond measure. Thank you again and again for everything and for caring about me and my family."

Victor Mueller, age 33, has been treating for esophageal cancer since December 2007. Victor, his son, Hunter, and Victor's cousin, Kathy, traveled to the CFL respite home outside Orlando, Florida. On his nomination form Victor had this to say about what this trip would mean to him, "I have been with this monster called cancer for two years. Hunter is the drive that gives me the will to fight. This trip brings the moments of a lifetime to share with my son who is my backbone and my little king. "

October '09

Louise Gatti-Russell, age 40, has been treating for breast cancer since February 2009. Louise, her husband and their daughter traveled to a donated home in the Poconos. Upon her return she had this to say, "There are no words to describe what that time with my family was. To be able to devote the week just to my husband, daughter and myself was wonderful after a summer of non-stop doctor visits."

Tia Crawley, age 33, has been treating for breast cancer since April 2009. Tia, her fiancé and 3 kids, traveled to the CFL home near Orlando, FL. Upon her return she had this to say, "Cancer had distanced me from my fiancé and kids, but the trip brought us back together. My fiancé is a spontaneous, fun loving person and this respite really allowed him to go back to being that person. This trip helped us get back to the way we were before cancer."

February '10

William Bailey, age 47, has been treating for cancer since February 2008. William, his wife and two kids, traveled to the CFL respite home outside Orlando, Florida. Upon his return, he had this to say, "My family and I would like to say thank you to Crossing the Finish Line. Without your much needed support, we would have been only dreaming about going to Disney. The CFL home in davenport was fabulous - as was working with all of you that made this a trip of a lifetime."

Matt Hershey, age 42, has been treating for cancer since July 2006. Matt, his wife and two daughters, traveled to the CFL home near Orlando, FL in April 2010. Upon his return, he had this to say, "It was a wonderful escape. I felt this respite allowed my children to talk about their feelings in a safe environment. The cancer experience is difficult on everyone in different ways. CFL recognizes this and helps bring a family together."

May '10

Melissa McGowan, age 42, has been receiving treatment for her cancer since October 2009. Melissa and her family received a cruise to Aruba in May, and said this upon her return, "What I enjoyed most of all, was seeing my son smile again. My illness has been very hard on him. Just seeing him smile made my week. Thank you all so much."

June '10

Bonnie Adams, age 48, has been receiving treatment for her cancer since March 2009. Bonnie and her husband traveled to a donated home in Sea Isle City in June 2010, and had this to say upon her return, "We needed the time away without doctors and people always asking 'How are you doing?'; we needed the quiet. We were able to find emotions that we weren't able to display with medical professionals and extended family."
